A Report on Interaction with Alumni on Journey after Graduation

Organized by:
Faculty of Electronics and Communication Engineering

Alumni:
Mr. Vatsal Bhakta

On
18th August 2017

Faculty of Electronics and Communication Engineering organized an interactive session under the banner of “Share What I Gain”, initiated by SCET Alumni Association for the Students of Electronics & Communication department on 18th August 2017. The purpose of the interaction was to address the UG and PG students to know life after graduation. The session was initiated to narrate the expectations of industries from a graduate and thus discover the inner potential of student to develop their career as well as to take the industry to the new horizons.

About The Alumni

The alumni guest was Mr. Vatsal Bhakta currently working as Account/Sales Director, Nokia with more than 14 years. He is an Alumni of Electronics and Communication Department, SCET passed out in 1999 batch. Mr. Bhakta completed his M.S. in Electrical Engineering from Southern Methodist University. Later he added laurel to his career by completing Master’s in Business Administration from University of Dallas. At present, He leads a team of more than 18 employees working under him providing global and local support.

During Interaction

It has been seen that human expectations are often based on wanting things to be a certain way. When such expectations are NOT met, it can cause worry, anger, frustration and a host of other extreme negative emotions. On the other hand, if the expectations are met, it brings happiness, loads of smiles, certain contentment, and a host of other emotional highs. Mr. Vatsal started the session with his feeling of pursuing Master’s after Graduation at the United States. He narrated the incidents of his dream of becoming a doctor but some how was not able to get into it. Later he added that even after graduation he was not very clear regarding the goals in his life and persuaded his Master’s in Master of Electrical Engineering. After completion of his Master’s, Mr. Vatsal joined Nokia as an engineer but later he realised that his talent was being wasted here and he need to have his career in managerial domain and hence persuaded his Master’s in Business Administration.

Mr. Bhakta showcased the requirement and an endless expectation of human. He narrated to add more value to one’s world than ever dreamed possible by giving tools and strategies that one can immediately use to improve one’s life. He narrated various turning points in his life that helped him to reach his goal. He calmly solved the queries of the students and motivated them to follow their dreams and achieve them. At last, Mr. Bhakta inspired students not to give up their dreams and work whole heartedly to achieve those precious dreams thereby developing their own life in their own ways.
