Event Insight:

About the event:

Sarvajanik College of Engineering and Technology, Surat arranged an exhilarating celebration of Teacher's Day.

About the Activity:

The Teacher's Day celebration at SCET was a high-octane day of pure enthusiasm and joy. It started with an intense game of musical chairs that had everyone laughing and competing with zeal. Following this, the dance floor came alive, where students and faculty showcased their dance moves, making it a memorable groove session.

While tongue twisters had us all in stitches and in splits of laughter. The highlight was the epic tug of war, pitting students against faculty, with the faculty team emerging victorious amid cheers and camaraderie.

Throughout the day, participants received tokens of appreciation, and the lucky draw added an element of surprise. The celebration embodied the strong bond between students and teachers and left us with cherished memories of unity and exuberance.
