

PROJECT SHOW CASE

Every year the department organizes the project show case where the project work of final year students is demonstrated. Students enthusiastically demonstrate their work through the actual/prototype hardware, simulation and through the poster presentations. Experts from various industries and nearby colleges are also invited to review their work and give their suggestions. It is kept open for all (society, students of other branches, lower classes, schools etc.). This year the project show case was organized on 30/05/2015.
